Night of the Kelpies

Sandy bets that he can spend the night at the Bay. It's supposed to be haunted by Kelpies, but Sandy doesn't believe that rubbish. Until midnight strikes. And the Queen of the Kelpies comes for him.

There are worse things than drowning ...

A terrifying Scottish tale.

'Exciting short story with large print and quite a few pictures to encourage newly developing or older reluctant readers.'
Primary Times NY

'These excellent titles go from strength to strength providing cracking reading ... With suitably scary black and white illustrations it's an excellent short read.'

Planet Hell

A&C Black (Wired Up Connect)
ISBN: 9781408154779

Sam is one of the Miners who live on Planet Hell, digging ore to power the Earth. It's a nightmarish underground life. Going to the surface means death. Nothing can live there. And then one day, Sam finds a note from the Surface, and learns that everything in his life is a lie.

A thought-provoking sci-fi story.

'...a futuristic, nail-biting dystopian tale set in the labyrinthine underground tunnels of [Planet Hell] ... Like his late father, teenage Sam works at mining ore under the authority of The Gang, who inflict severe punishment on anyone who steps away from the rigorous rules. Instilled with horrific stories of life above ground, nobody ever leaves. Except Sam ... For age eight and an encouraging read for reluctant older readers.'

Mary Arrigan The Irish Examiner

'A thought-provoking science fiction story which will intrigue the reader.'
